

Dr. Nazem Malkawi

Associate Professor of Business administration& Management Information System (MIS).

Research Interests

My research interests encompass many areas in the field of information systems, E=Business, E-management, knowledge management, database, data mining, operation research, Decision Making& DSS, Total Quality Management, Competitive advantage& strategy, information quality, cloud computing (applied research)..... . My current research work and proposed future research interests focus in seeking solutions to some existing problems, especially solutions to some problems in real life of organizations and societies.

By their very nature, people are inquisitive. The goal of education should be to encourage seeking answers, as it is in this way that we advance. I seek to facilitate this advancement of knowledge, and the main theme of my teaching philosophy is reasoned thought. Whether in the classroom or in meeting groups of the general public, my goal is to encourage thinking in rational ways, so that this can be applied in other, unfamiliar situations. I particularly emphasize learning to think about trends and directions (e.g. increasing this will decrease that), rather than rote memorization of facts.
